This is a lesson you do not want to miss!

The Image of God

God revealed His ten commandments to Moses during the Exodus narrative, recorded for us in the passage we call Exodus 20. They formed a foundation for defining who Israel was meant to be as well as how they might begin to understand God's plan for their lives as children of the Most High. The first two commandments make His will crystal-clear regarding even the hint of a desire to worship other gods or fashion icons and images to represent them. Take another look at the second commandment: "You shall not make for yourself an image in the form of anything in heaven above or on the earth beneath or in the waters below." It doesn't matter which part of creation you find it in, God does not want you taking something and using it as an aid in worshipping other gods.

The second commandment prohibits the creation of icons and images for worshipping other gods. It also seems to prohibit the creation of an icon or image for use in worshipping Yahweh, as well. Yet, God is not opposed to visual aids. After all, He tells the Israelites to do everything they can to remind themselves of scripture. He instructs them put it in their hearts and impress it on their children, but also to put it on their hands and foreheads and door frames and gateposts. So, why wouldn't He approve of an image if it helped us remember Him?

There are a number of reasons we might consider, but the most compelling one is found in the first chapter of Genesis. At the very beginning, as He was establishing and setting order to His creation, God himself includes an image that is meant to represent His presence. "So God created mankind in His own image, in the image of God He created them; male and female He created them." For us to create an image with our own hands and set it up to represent God would effectively mean that we aren't satisfied with the image God intended and are replacing it with one of our own choosing. Stated more bluntly, we are rejecting God's plan and choosing our own in its place. The image God desires in the world to represent His presence is YOU and ME.

Jesus is the ultimate fulfillment of this. John records Jesus' words in chapter 14, "If you really know me, you will know my Father as well. From now on, you do know Him and have seen Him." Jesus lived life perfectly and in doing so exhibited the perfect image of God to the world. As Christians, we strive to follow Jesus as the ultimate example of life. The more we look like Jesus, the more we look like the Father - and the more accurately the image of God is shown to the world around us. This begs the question, when the world sees you, how much of God do they see?
